

GO IN WITH THE REAL

There is so much craziness and evil going on that you are unable to change. Instead of getting upset, go in with the Real where you are. In the realm where you are bodily present at any moment live out the Real Life as taught by Jesus, no matter how simple the task may seem. Do not be distracted. Apply all you know of God's will to what is right before you. Have self so denied that you do not care if you are not influencing many. Living out the Real in the "sphere to which you are appointed" will bless others and yourself. Being upset blesses no one and harms you. Actually we are all called to go in with the Real. Walk worthy of that calling and realize how precious that calling is to you and the precious ones you are around...so precious that Christ died for them and you. Be strong on the scene.
